OUR COURSES ARE DELIVERED USING OUR PREPARE, ENGAGE AND CONSOLIDATE (PEC) MODEL

This model encourages independent and deep learning. The model is shared across both Attendance and Online modes of learning.

PREPARE

At the start of each unit of study you will become familiar with the core principles of your study through self-guided activities, this is LEARNING INPUT

INCLUDES
- Reviewing the appropriate material from the relevant media resources.
- Test your Knowledge exercises.
- Independent learning (reading and research).
- Preparatory tasks, including problem-solving, preparing notes of advice, writing, drafting.

ENGAGE

Discuss, evaluate, and challenge the work you have prepared through active engagement; this is LEARNING USE

INCLUDES
- Drafting documentation.
- Producing checklists.
- Carrying out skills exercises.
- Advising in written or recorded form.
- Preparing advice on a particular matter.
- Participation in Discussion Boards and other methods of submitting your work.
- You will be working to a weekly deadline rather than committed to completing the work within a scheduled block of time.

For additional support, your tutors conduct Live Subject Support Sessions.

CONSOLIDATE

Reach your conclusions and/ or investigate alternative application of your study through self-guided activities; this is LEARNING ENHANCEMENT

INCLUDES
- Consolidating your notes for future revision (focus on the tasks and outcomes).
- Working through the specific Consolidate stage of the unit which may have short additional Tasks.
- Identifying the underlying principles from the tasks so you can apply them to a different set of facts.
- Re-attempting the PREPARE Test Your Knowledge exercises, if necessary, and attempting the CONSOLIDATE Test Your Knowledge exercises.

Please note that the Legal Practice Course is not a lecture-heavy course in any mode; please do not expect lectures in every Unit of study. You will have access to recordings of the same number and range of lectures used on the attendance mode. The Live Subject Support Sessions with your tutors are used to pick up and address questions you may have about your work (particularly your Engage tasks), they are not lectures.

LPC Online is delivered asynchronously meaning that this learning will be deadline-driven, to complete by the end of the week rather than in a set block.
